Navigate to <https://test.bcnursinghistory.ca/wp-admin/>

The screenshot displays the WordPress admin dashboard. On the left is a dark sidebar with navigation links. The main content area features several widgets. At the top, a 'Good' status message indicates the site is performing well. Below this is the 'At a Glance' widget, which provides a quick overview of site statistics: 265 Posts, 59 Pages, and 9 Comments. It also notes that WordPress 6.8.1 is running the Divi theme. The 'Activity' widget is prominently displayed, showing a list of 'Recently Published' posts and 'Recent Comments'. The 'Recently Published' section lists five posts with their dates and times, including 'Happy Nurses Week 2025' and 'Congratulations Heather Mass, Don Ransom and Kathy Murphy'. The 'Recent Comments' section shows three comments, with the most recent one from 'From Glenis on Parade of Past & Present nursing uniforms'. On the right side of the dashboard, there is a 'Content' section with a 'Save Draft' button, a 'Your Recent Drafts' section listing several drafts, and a 'WordPress Events and News' section with various updates and announcements.

Good you can do to improve its performance and security. Take a look at the 4 items on the Site Health screen.
